INSTITUTE FOR NONVIOLENCE IN LOS ANGELES AND DAYS OF DIALOGUE

September 29, 2015 Dialogue Report

Host: LA Conservation Corps

Location: South LA Center

These Days of Dialogue on the Future of Policing come at an important time in the life of our nation and in greater Los Angeles. August 2015 marks the start of a year long series of dialogue sessions on this topic.

As tensions rise due to our increased awareness about violent interactions between law enforcement and people of color, it is certainly a time when authentic dialogue between all stakeholders may help to build bridges between community members, our institutional leaders, law enforcement, and public safety organizations.

Participants' survey results (which were submitted without attribution, in order to encourage candor) indicate an overwhelming belief that the dialogue process is helpful. Participants express openness to constructively engaging in dialogue, as well as openness to changing their minds when given the opportunity to explore different perspectives and gain new insights.

Readers are encouraged to consider how the dialogue process can help advance the work of our democratic institutions by providing a structure designed for all community members to actively and constructively engage in thinking, questioning assumptions, and revisiting conclusions based on new perspectives.

Days of Dialogue is pleased to submit this report to further advance dialogue about critical issues.

Militarization of police departments, the impact of the media, implicit biases, the use of body cameras on police officers, and the public's limited access to “the facts” are but a few of the topics explored in this important dialogue series. There are many more issues to pursue.

We appreciate the support of law enforcement and public safety officials, elected officials, community members, our volunteer facilitators and our sponsors in this undertaking. Serving as a conduit to greater understanding and engagement is an honor for staff and supporters of Days of Dialogue.

We believe that authentic dialogue, manifested in a neutral setting, provides the opportunity for an improved community life like few other initiatives.

In service,

Avis Ridley-Thomas, Executive Director
Days of Dialogue
