You can't lean on your own understanding for stuff that happens. There's a lot of reasons for something that's happening today- often relates to something that happened in the past.

When you guys see a video- it doesn't always go sideways- it doesn't always end like that.

Don't think just because you see a video that it's going to go sideways, it doesn't necessarily have the same outcome.

The importance to know the law- know what the police can and cannot do to you.

There is a lighter side to LE- a lot of the guys don't believe that. They believe that LE is out to get them- to arrest them. We saw the lighter side of LE today.

Are some of the officers bad people? Yes, some are.

Officer mentioned that- when a gun is pointed at you- might not be the best time to express your opinions.

The officers who were with us today gave us a different view.

I got out of this that the officers helped everyone to participate- the introverts and the extroverts. Officers talked about the interactions that they themselves have, even today. Know your rights, be respectful, it can change the outcome. As a young person, know how to handle yourself.

Officer: I'm kind of with this young man in my group. There is a major disparity between us sitting in this room talking, and the officers out on the street. Hopefully we can get those outside officers to come in and participate in these talks.

Student: I'll put it like this. These might be good officers. The officers on the outside, don't care, run our backgrounds, put the cuffs on.

Thank you to the gentleman who just spoke, you all have something inside you that you can offer. There is more for you out there. Have faith in yourself."

Thank

You...
